A Leather Diary

User Manual

Your days, plans and memories - kept together

WELCOME

Made to feel like a journal

This guide explains only the features evidenced in the supplied app screens and instructions. Screen appearance may vary slightly by device or app version.

Privacy-safe illustrations. No personal photographs, diary writing, names, contact details, addresses, email addresses, telephone numbers, to-do items, private memories or inscriptions are reproduced in this manual. Chapter-specific neutral diagrams retain the useful navigation and control sequence without exposing user data.

Quick start

1. Open the leather cover to enter the diary.

Help & troubleshooting

CHAPTER 01

Open, close and find your way

The cover is the entrance to the diary; the finished and back-cover views complete the book-like experience.

Open, close and find your way

- Open the front cover to reveal the diary.
- Use the main menu as the central route to the pages evidenced in this guide.
- Return to the menu before choosing another area.
- Close the diary from the cover/finished view when your session is complete.

How to use it

1. Open the front cover to reveal the diary.
2. Use the main menu as the central route to the pages evidenced in this guide.
3. Return to the menu before choosing another area.
4. Close the diary from the cover/finished view when your session is complete.

> Note
> If a page does not appear, return to the main menu and open it again.

Diary page

Use the Diary page for the day itself: a dated place for writing and keeping the detail of an occasion.

Diary page

- Open Diary from the main menu.
- Move to the date you want to work with.
- Add or review the entry on that dated page.
- Leave the page when the entry is complete.

How to use it

1. Open Diary from the main menu.
2. Move to the date you want to work with.
3. Add or review the entry on that dated page.
4. Leave the page when the entry is complete.

> Note
> Privacy: this manual intentionally shows no private diary wording. A reference to the Red Roses may remain as the permitted match-day example.

CHAPTER 03

Weather

Weather can add useful context to a day or event.

Weather

Open Weather from the relevant diary area.

Review the conditions shown for the selected place or day.

Use the information as context when making plans or recording the day.

How to use it

1. Open Weather from the relevant diary area.
2. Review the conditions shown for the selected place or day.
3. Use the information as context when making plans or recording the day.

> Note
> Weather information can change. Refresh or reopen the view if the displayed conditions appear old.

CHAPTER 04

Astronomy and meteor events

The Astronomy area provides sky information, including a meteor-event view evidenced in the app.

Astronomy and meteor events

Open Astronomy.	Choose the meteor or astronomical event view shown in the app.
Read the date and event information.	Return to the diary when finished.

How to use it

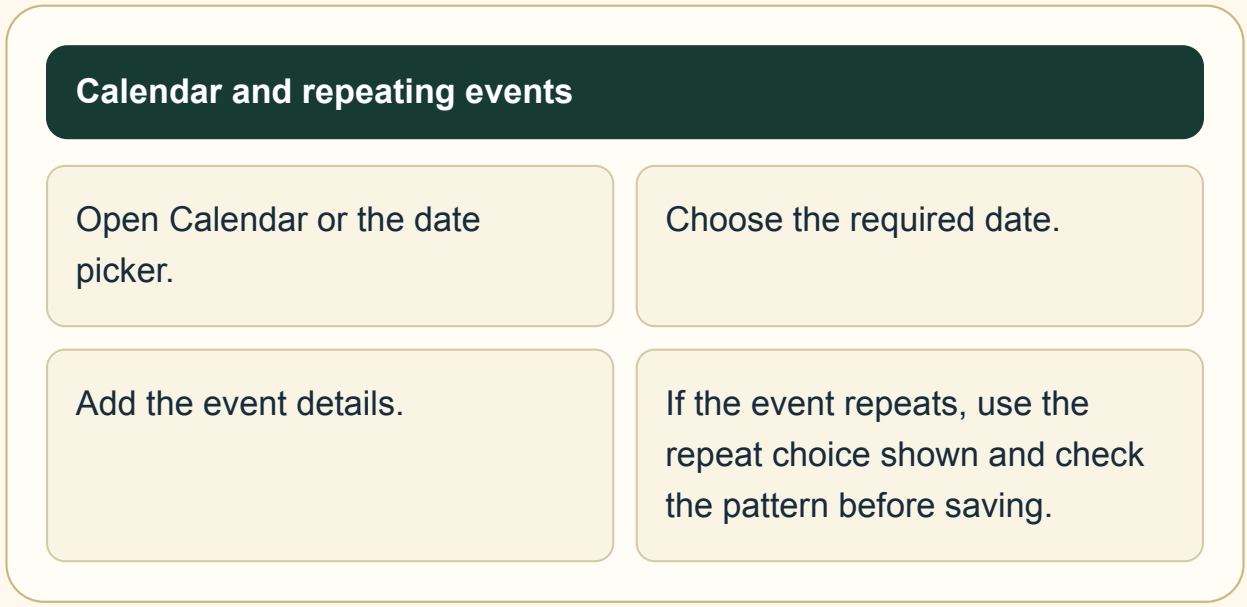

1. Open Astronomy.
2. Choose the meteor or astronomical event view shown in the app.
3. Read the date and event information.
4. Return to the diary when finished.

> Note
> Viewing conditions depend on location, weather and visibility.

CHAPTER 05

Calendar and repeating events

Use the Calendar/date picker to reach a date and the event controls to record an event, including a repeating event where shown.

How to use it

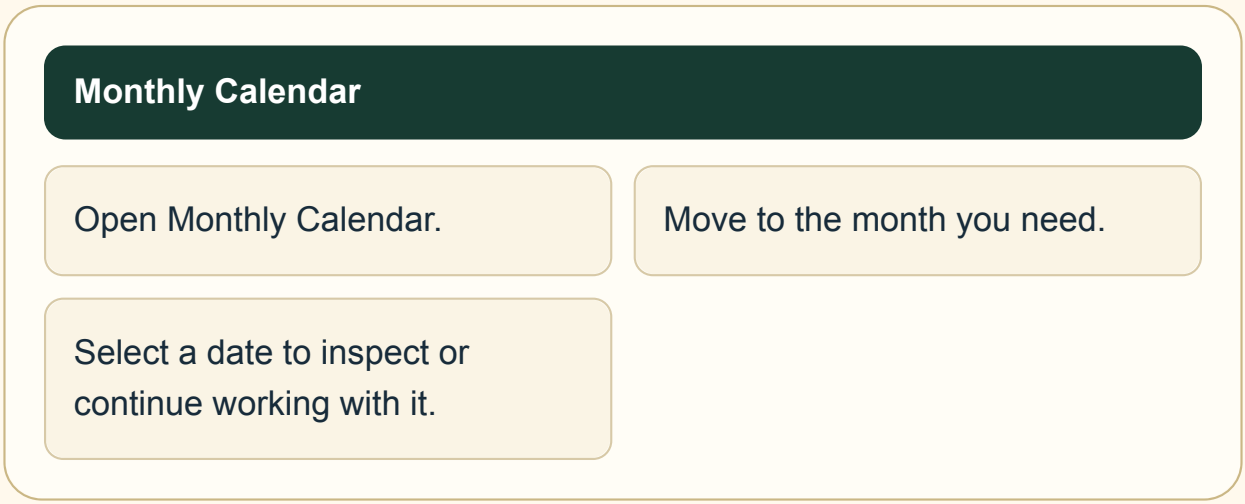

1. Open Calendar or the date picker.
2. Choose the required date.
3. Add the event details.
4. If the event repeats, use the repeat choice shown and check the pattern before saving.

> Note
> Check both the start date and repeat pattern before leaving the event.

CHAPTER 06

Monthly Calendar

The monthly view gives a broader view of dated items.

How to use it

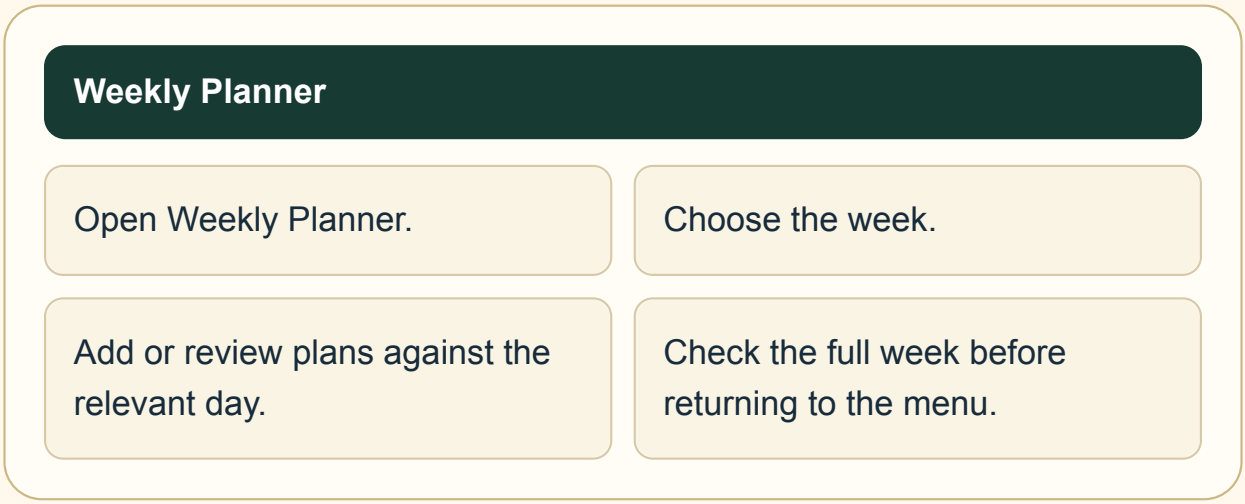

1. Open Monthly Calendar.
2. Move to the month you need.
3. Select a date to inspect or continue working with it.

> Note
> Use the month view for orientation; use the dated diary page for fuller detail.

CHAPTER 07

Weekly Planner

The Weekly Planner brings the days of one week together for practical planning.

How to use it

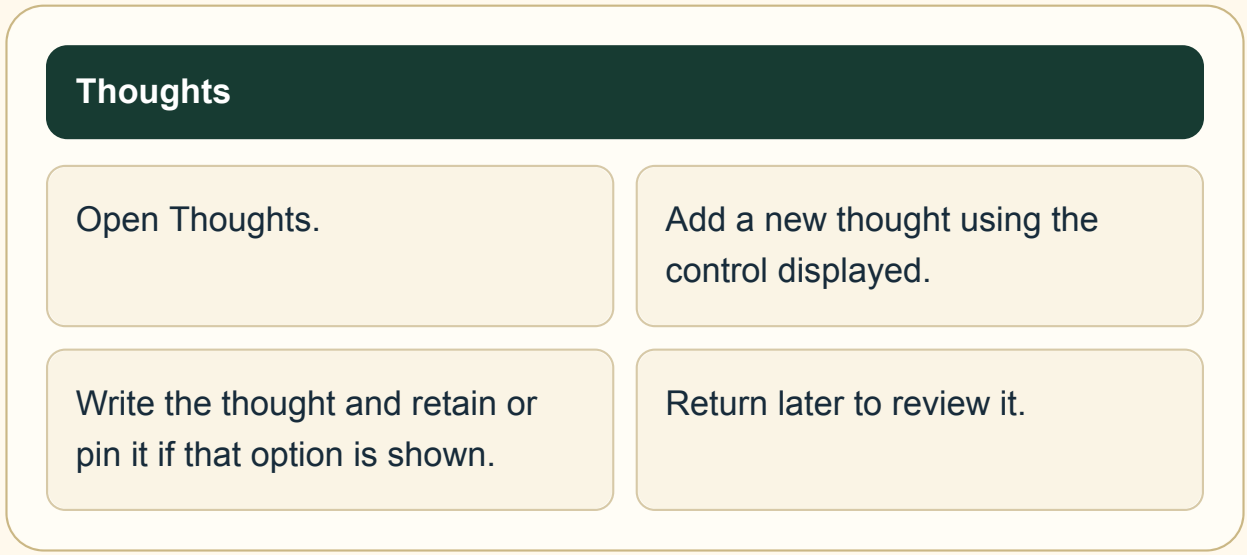

1. Open Weekly Planner.
2. Choose the week.
3. Add or review plans against the relevant day.
4. Check the full week before returning to the menu.

> Note
> Keep entries short enough to scan quickly; fuller reflections belong in Diary or Thoughts.

CHAPTER 08

Thoughts

Thoughts is a lighter space for ideas and reflections that do not need to become a dated diary entry.

How to use it

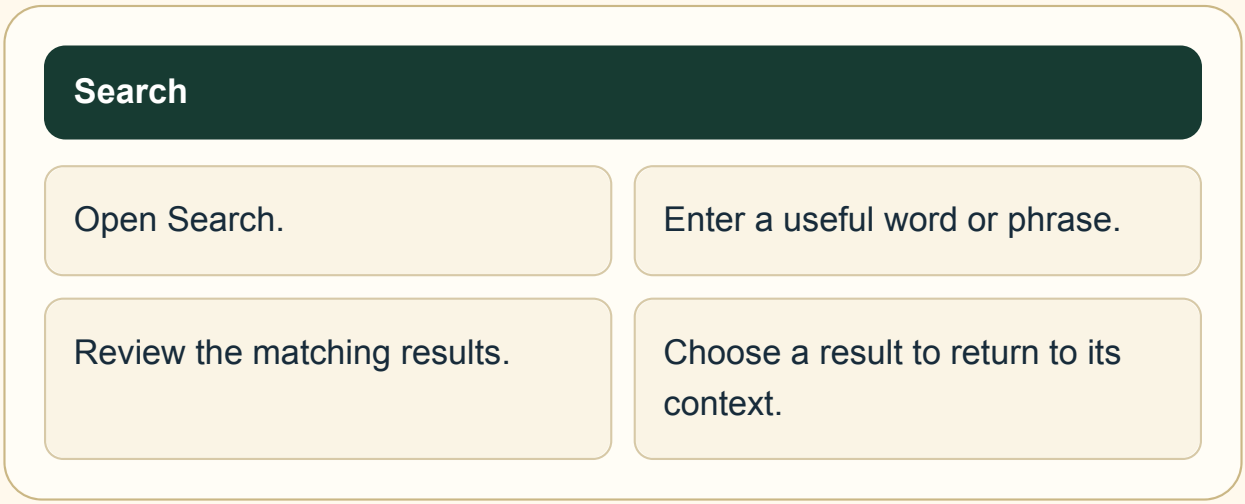

1. Open Thoughts.
2. Add a new thought using the control displayed.
3. Write the thought and retain or pin it if that option is shown.
4. Return later to review it.

> Note
> Use a neutral title if the thought contains sensitive information.

CHAPTER 09

Search

Search helps locate material already kept in the diary.

How to use it

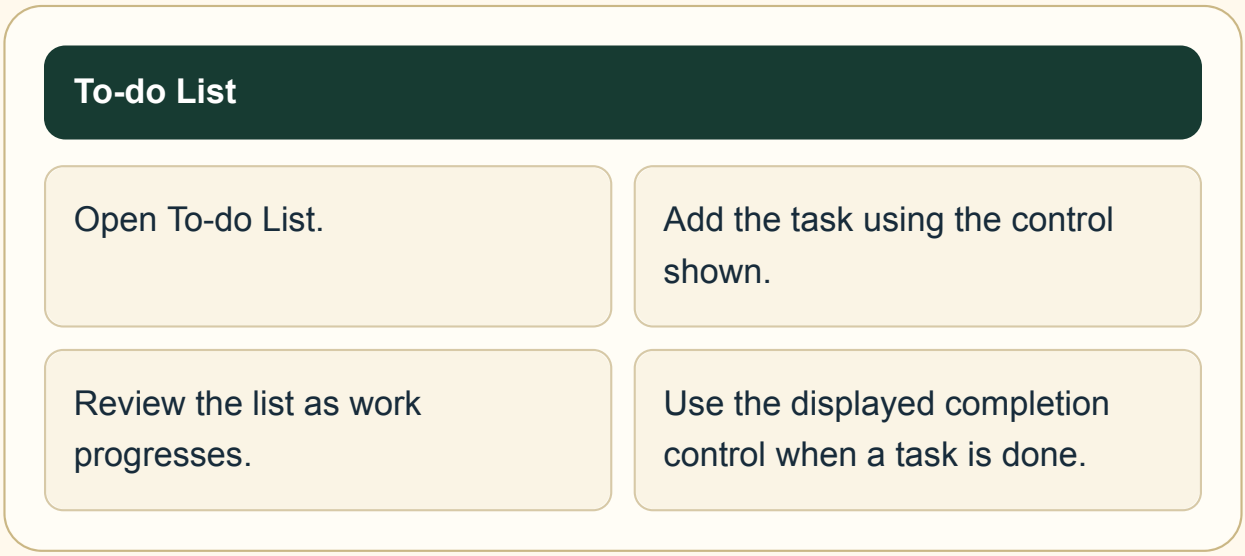

1. Open Search.
2. Enter a useful word or phrase.
3. Review the matching results.
4. Choose a result to return to its context.

> Note
> A distinctive keyword usually gives a clearer result than a very common word.

CHAPTER 10

To-do List

The To-do List keeps practical tasks separate from diary prose.

How to use it

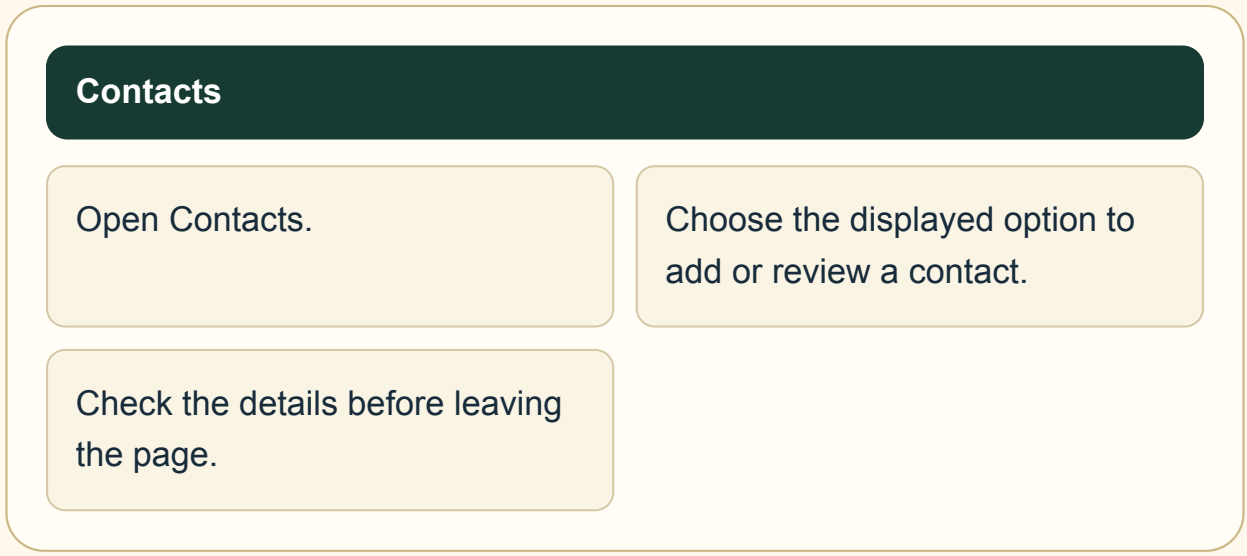

1. Open To-do List.
2. Add the task using the control shown.
3. Review the list as work progresses.
4. Use the displayed completion control when a task is done.

> Note
> No private tasks are reproduced in this guide.

CHAPTER 11

Contacts

Contacts keeps useful people details within the diary experience.

How to use it

1. Open Contacts.
2. Choose the displayed option to add or review a contact.
3. Check the details before leaving the page.

> Note
> Treat contact information as private. This manual deliberately includes no names, telephone numbers, addresses or email addresses.

CHAPTER 12

Import and Export

Import/Export provides the transfer choices evidenced in the app.

Import and Export
Open Import/Export.	Choose Import when bringing supported diary material in, or Export when preparing material to take out.
Review the scope shown on screen.	Confirm only after checking that the selection is correct.

How to use it

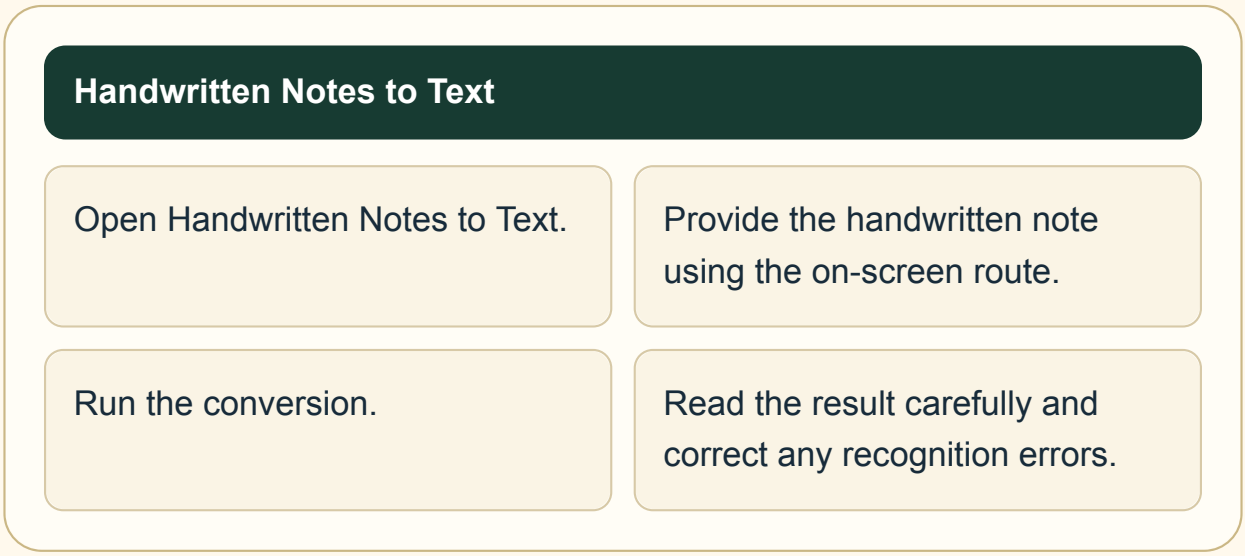

1. Open Import/Export.
2. Choose Import when bringing supported diary material in, or Export when preparing material to take out.
3. Review the scope shown on screen.
4. Confirm only after checking that the selection is correct.

> Note
> Before transferring, check whether the selection contains private entries or media.

This feature turns a handwritten note into editable text.

How to use it

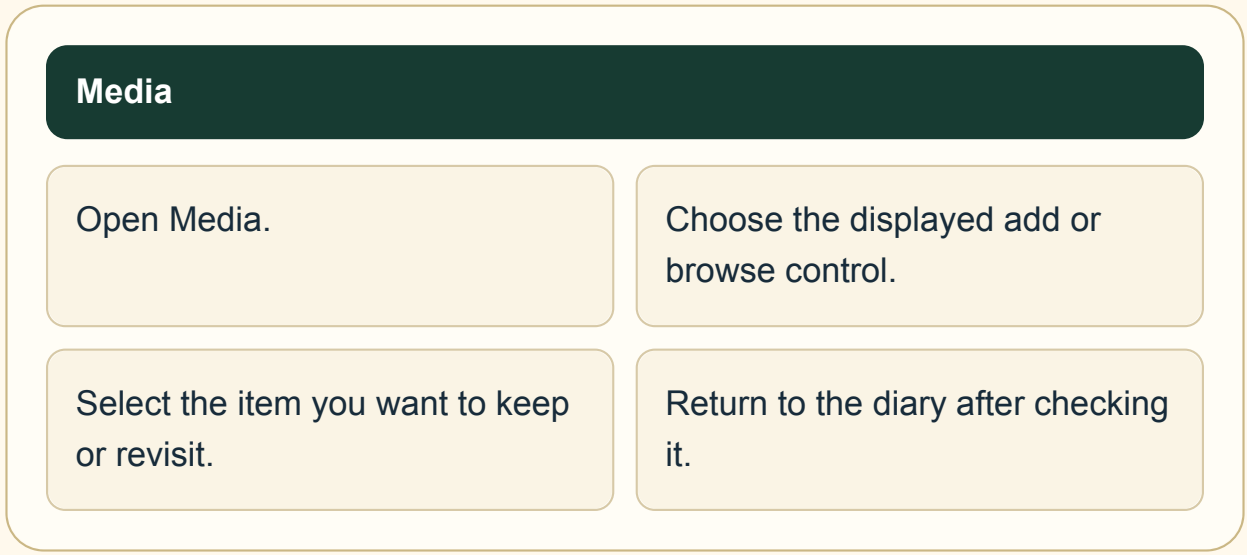

1. Open Handwritten Notes to Text.
2. Provide the handwritten note using the on-screen route.
3. Run the conversion.
4. Read the result carefully and correct any recognition errors.

> Note
> Names, dates and unusual words deserve an extra check after conversion.

CHAPTER 14

Media

Media is the diary area for supported pictures and other remembered material shown by the app.

How to use it

1. Open Media.
2. Choose the displayed add or browse control.
3. Select the item you want to keep or revisit.
4. Return to the diary after checking it.

> Note
> This guide uses no personal photographs. Review permissions if media cannot be selected.

CHAPTER 15

Cover Room and Cover Studio

The cover tools let you browse and personalise the diary's leather presentation using the choices actually shown in the app.

Cover Room and Cover Studio

- Open Cover Room to browse available cover ideas.
- Open Cover Studio for the shown personalisation choices.
- Preview the result.
- Keep the cover only when you are happy with the preview.

How to use it

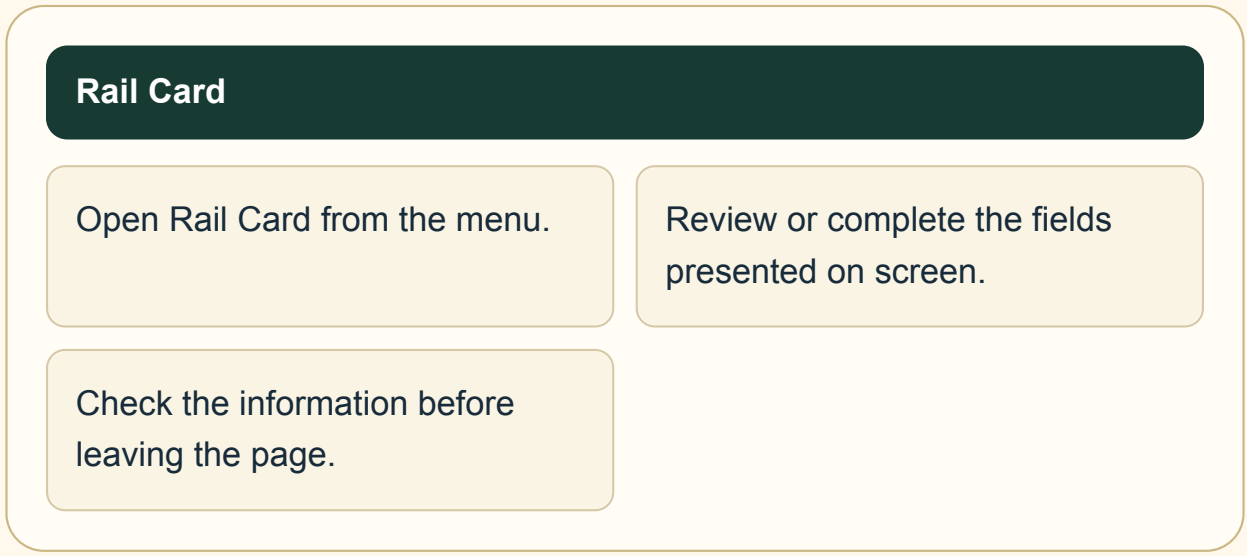

1. Open Cover Room to browse available cover ideas.
2. Open Cover Studio for the shown personalisation choices.
3. Preview the result.
4. Keep the cover only when you are happy with the preview.

> Note
> Avoid putting private contact information into a visible cover inscription.

CHAPTER 16

Rail Card

Rail Card provides the travel-card page evidenced in the diary.

How to use it

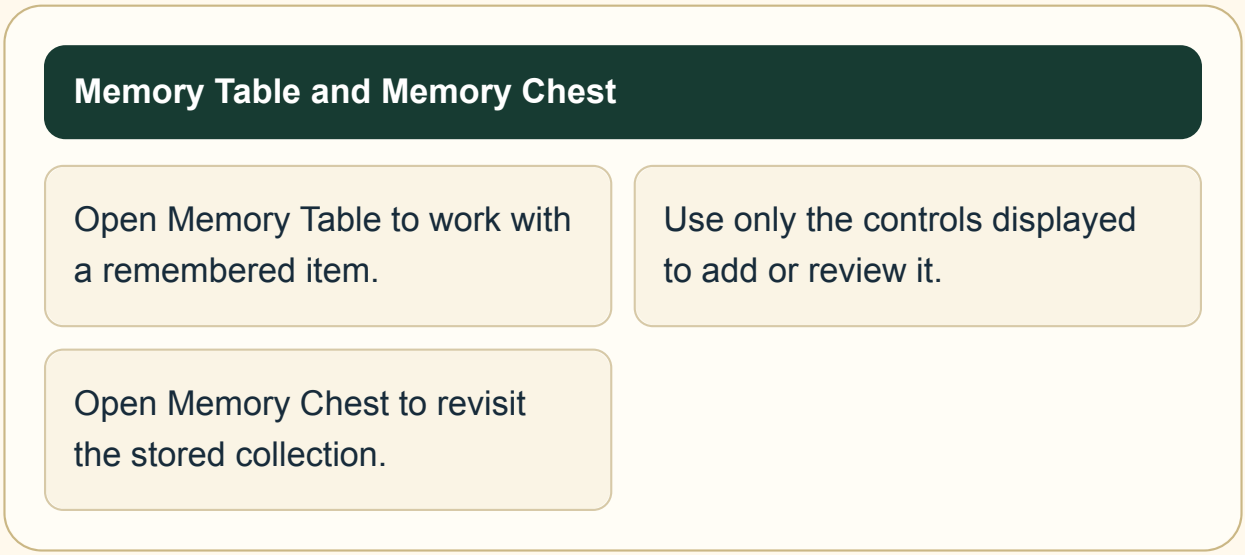

1. Open Rail Card from the menu.
2. Review or complete the fields presented on screen.
3. Check the information before leaving the page.

> Note
> Treat ticket and journey details as personal information when sharing exports or screenshots.

CHAPTER 17

Memory Table and Memory Chest

The Memory Table is a place to arrange remembered items; the Memory Chest keeps the memory collection together.

How to use it

1. Open Memory Table to work with a remembered item.
2. Use only the controls displayed to add or review it.
3. Open Memory Chest to revisit the stored collection.

> Note
> No personal memory photographs or inscriptions are shown in this manual.

HELP

Help & troubleshooting

I cannot find a page

Return to the main menu or opening view and choose the destination again. Check that you are working in the intended edition and, where relevant, the intended date, course, meeting or race.

Information looks old or incomplete

Reopen the view and use a refresh option only where one is displayed. For weather, course and race information, remember that external facts may change.

An entry is missing

Return to the relevant page and check its date or selection. Where the app displays a save control, confirm the item was saved before leaving.

I am about to share or export

Review every page first. Remove or omit personal writing, photographs, contact details, travel details and inscriptions unless you intentionally want to share them.

The layout differs from this guide

This manual uses simplified diagrams to protect private information. Follow the labels displayed by your copy of the app and use its built-in Help page where available.
